

CRTV Association
November 20, 2009 Update

In winding up CRTV, we are obliged to follow the rules and regulations related to liquidations. One of these was the publication of a public notice calling on anyone with a claim against CRTV to come forward within a specified time. We published that notice, as required, on May 11, 2009. The deadline for claims was two months after publication date.

On November 16, the BC Supreme Court approved the final distribution of CRTV's assets. Anyone who still had claims against CRTV had to present them at that hearing. There were no further claims and the final distribution was approved by the Court. Therefore, the procedure for dealing with additional claims is now closed.